THE SUPPOSED BURGLAR JAILED-

Speaking at Chesterfield Court. House To-Morrow-Church Choir

The white tramp, who gave his name as Jacob Campbell, and who made a attempt to conceal himself in irs. Charter's home, corner of Seventh and McDonough streets, on Friday night, nder circumstances already related in he Dispatch, was a prisoner in the layor's Court yesterday morning. Campell was found in the hallway by Mrs Charter's daughter, who was so much frightened that she fainted. Upon being discovered the would-be burglar meekly sked for a coat, but was seized and nded in the station-house.

The prisoner stated yesterday morning that he had just come to Richmond on his way to Norfolk, and intended to take sel and work his way home to Phila-He stopped to get a cost, then get a piece of paper to wrap some meh in, which he bought in Richmond. the neighbors told him to go away. When he reached Seventh and Hull streets he sat down, and an officer came along and arrested him. WIMMER-THALHIMER TRAGEDY.

No New Developments, Yesterday—Motion for Bail To-Morrow.

There were no new developments in the Wimmer-Thalhimer tragedy yesterday. The accused spent a quiet day in the city jail. He was visited by a number of friends, several of whom assured him that they would render him such aid as was in their power. The report that Messra, C. V. Meredith and H. M. Smith, Jr. had been engaged to assist in Wimmer's prosecution appears to have been a mistake. Mr. Smith, who returned to the city yesterday after an absence of saveral days, said that he could not represent the Commonwealth, as he had been requested to, and had called to resent the Commonwealth, as he had been requested to, and had called to see Wimmer at the station-house on the night of the homicide, and talked with the accused and his wife and daughter regarding the affair. Since his return to the city he has not had an opportunity to confer with either Mr. pertunity to confer with either Mr. Folkes or the prisoner; and, though requested to do so by Mr. Folkes, Mr. Smith does not yet know if he will assist the defence in this case.

Mr. Meredith is at his home, on east Grace street, sick, and it is said by his friends that he determined long since not to again appear in any murder case

The entire building has been remodelled, rom basement up, and taken in connection with the commodious "John Pope the mex," just completed, makes this one of the most modern and best equipped ospitals in the South. Numerous private owns and wards have been added, whose ombined capacity is now more than outle that of the hospital prior to these improvements.

combined capacity is now more than double that of the hospital prior to these improvements.

On entering one finds himself in a most spacious hall of about 18x20 feet, and intersecting this are two long hallways at right angles, thus giving superb cross ventilation. These halls are duplicated on the second floor, and are lighted by double windows and skylights. One of the splendid features of the new hospital is the dining-room, so situated as to location and ventilation as practically to place it on the outside of the building proper. By this arrangement the patients confined to their beds in the main building are freed from the noise of the dining-room as well as from the fumes of the kitchen and pantries.

The entire house is heated by modern steam-radiators, at a cost of $2,000. This is supplemented by open fireplaces in each room and ward, not only for a "reserve" in case of necessity, but for the purpose of better ventilation. In the centre of the building is a large passenger cievator. Six bath-rooms, supplied with modern psrcelain-lined bath-tubs, serve to insure the best possible equipment in hydenic plumbing. Dumh-waiters, diet-kitchens, and ample linen-rooms have been provided.

Jim Braxton (colored), well known as the "Boogerman," is minus a boy presented to him by Acting-Justice Graves a few days ago. The boy is named A. Thomas, and was charged in the Police Court with being a vagrant. Having no home, and being in everybody's way, he was offered by the Justice to whoever would take him, and the "Boogerman" premptly put in an application and secured the prize. Yesterday the boy's uncle, who is employed by the Chesapeake and Ohio railway, heard of his nephew's situation, and secured permission to recover him. Braxton, however, refused to deliver the lad, and Sergeant-Detective Tomlinson went to his home and got the youngster and turned him over to his waiting relative, who will send him to Louisa county.
